James Farm Photo Challenge: Save the Dates! New!

Mark your calendars! The Second Annual James Farm Photo Challenge is scheduled to take place Sept. 20-21. This fun and unique photo contest will once again take place at beautiful James Farm Ecological Preserve in Ocean View, DE.

What's so unusual about this photo contest is that only photos taken at the James Farm Ecological Preserve on Sept. 20-21 by registered participants will be considered for the competition.

The James Farm Photo Challenge is sponsored by The Coastal Camera Club, Rehoboth Art League, and Sharon Denny Photography and benefits the Delaware Center for the Inland Bays. Many camera club members participated last year and our own Debbie Blair shot the winning image!

More details and access to the sign-up portal will be forthcoming. Until then, please mark your calendars and plan to take part in this marvelous event.

Education and Training

The club is offering three very lucky members money to attend educational training of their choice. It can be on-line training, in person classes or a field workshop.

We will pick the winners during our 2024-2025 Peek Under the Tent on August 14th.

We will draw 3 names during the raffle. One name will be selected for a prize of up to $500 for one or multiple educational training sessions and two names for one or multiple educational training sessions up to $250 for each person. We will request an invoice for proof of attendance or registration.

If interested in the drawing please enter your name by sending an email to jmtfoto@yahoo.com no later than August 13th. Good luck and Happy Learning!

How to Use PhotoPills to Plan Your Photoshoots

Jul 29, 2024, 11:00 AM - 12:00 PM EDT

FREE

Rafael Pons from PhotoPills will be joining us to talk about his amazing app.

The app helps photographers plan unique photoshoots, get access to daily Sun, Moon, and Milky Way information, receive awards, calculate equivalent exposures with filters, and many more exclusive bonuses!

Landscape SIG July Field Trip Updated!

Note: As of today, this outing is scheduled for Thursday 7/25

We will again be shooting the night lights at the Delaware State Fair. I am looking at one of the evenings during the week of July 22nd. The actual date will be determined by weather and availability of those wanting to go. For more information, contact Bill Crnkovich at bestwestphoto@gmail.com or 801-949-9665.

Here are a couple of Bill's photos from last year's outing

with Phil Atiyeh

Explore your artistic side by creating dozens of colorful, abstract images from a single photograph. The presentation will take you step-by-step through the process where a select array of Photoshop tools are used to create a large, colorful master file - or tapestry - where images are ultimately extracted. Several other examples are presented showing variations of the process and the boundless image styles that can be created.
